

IndexVolume 44, 2001*Content Index*Part 1: January–March

- The effects of parallelism and prosody in the processing of gapping structures 1

Katy Carlson

- Constrained emergence of universals and variation in syllable systems 27

Melissa A. Redford, Chun Chi Chen, and Risto Miikkulainen

- Variability in fricative production and spectra: 57

Implications for the hyper- and hypo- and quantal theories of speech production

Marija Tabain

- Help or hinderance: How violation of different assimilation rules
affects spoken-language processing 95

Andrea Weber

Part 2: April–June

- Disfluency rates in conversation: 123

Effects of age, relationship, topic, role, and gender

Heather Bortfeld, Silvia D. Leon, Jonathan E. Bloom,

Michael F. Schober, and Susan E. Brennan

- Perceiving non-native speech 149

Judith Bürki-Cohen, Joanne L. Miller, and Peter D. Eimas

- Voornaam* is not (really) a homophone: 171

Lexical prosody and lexical access in Dutch

Anne Cutler and Wilma van Donselaar

- Rate-induced resyllabification revisited 197

Kenneth J. de Jong

- A direct assessment of the relation between shared knowledge 217

and communication in a referential communication task

Michiko Nohara-LeClair

Part 3: July–September

- Rethinking the word frequency effect: 295

The neglected role of distributional information in lexical processing

Scott A. McDonald and Richard C. Shillcock

- The effect of production variables in monolog 325
and dialog on comprehension by novel listeners

Tara Murfitt and Jan McAllister
